NORTH WEST TRADE UNIONS BACK POST OFFICE WORKERS IN THEIR CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE PART PRIVATISATION OF ROYAL MAIL

TULO, the umbrella organisation incorporating all unions affiliated to the Labour Party is supporting the Communication Workers Union in their campaign against the part privatisation of Royal Mail.

Bill Berry, UNISON Full time Officer and Chair of the North West TULO Committee said:

The affiliated unions are 100% in support of our colleagues in the Communication Workers Union. The Royal Mail is an essential public service and as the country prepares to deal with the impact of the economic recession it is essential that the value of Royal Mail is recognised in every community. This is a time for government to recognise the economic and social value of Royal Mail and invest accordingly.

The trade unions are taking careful note of the politicians supporting Early Day Motion 428 and we will be seeking to maximise our influence in advance of the Parliamentary vote.
