

FOUR PILLARS BULLETIN

BULLETIN #04

ROYAL MAIL'S SENIOR MANAGEMENT

We believe the Royal Mail Group board are now imposing a new culture.

Senior managers are jumping ship or being pushed leaving the business one after the other, as the board drive a short-term, extreme cost-cutting, maximum profit agenda.

They want to get pensions off the balance sheet and down dial terms and conditions for Royal Mail Group employees and CWU members.

They want to reduce the influence of the CWU and free themselves to put greater pressure on workers to achieve maximum shareholder returns.

In respect of who you should trust, don't just judge it on the information coming out, judge it on the way you are being treated in the workplace and you will see the answer.

IT'S TIME TO CHOOSE SIDES.
